CABINET CONSIDERS RAIL STRIKE PROBLEM; WILL MAKE NEXT MOVE

MAY ORGANIZE NEW BOARD OF CONCILIATION

Opinion Prevails Heads of Unions Will Carry Issue Through.

SITUATION SERIOUS

Indications Are That Some Executives are Not Averse to Strike

Washington, Oct. 18.—The administration will seek to enforce all decisions of the railroad labor board as its first step toward averting a nation-wide railroad strike, it was officially stated at the White House today.

The administration believes that all parties which have violated decisions of the board, both employers and employees, must be called to account for their violations immediately.

News that the brotherhood chiefs had been requested to go to Chicago came to Washington just as the cabinet was assembling at the White House for its first meeting since the strike began to assume menacing proportions. It was taken as a hopeful sign by members of the cabinet.

Chairman McChord of the I. C. C. refused to state whether the decision to call the brotherhood leaders to Chicago for a conference had been agreed upon in the joint session of the railroad labor board and the I. C. C. here, but indicated that the brotherhood leaders have been summoned under section 317 of the transportation act to explain their violation of the decisions of the board and that railroad executives who are charged with having violated the decisions of the board will also be summoned.

Judge R. M. Barton and Ben Hooper, the public's representatives on the labor board are due to arrive in Chicago this forenoon.

Washington, Oct. 18.—The railroad strike in all its menacing possibilities was put up to the cabinet today by President Harding.

With no signs of a settlement discernible from Washington unless the government itself takes action, the cabinet prepared for a lengthy session with the chief executive. As a basis for their deliberations, the president and his advisers had the conclusions reached here during the three day session of the interstate commerce commission and the public group of the railway labor board.

Outstanding among the conflicting opinions and views which have prevailed here since the strike announcement in Chicago, Saturday, was the belief in official circles that both sides in the present critical controversy and especially the labor group were "bluffing."

Today there is a noticeable change of front. The feeling that the union chiefs are bluffing still persists but this view of the situation has resulted in the fear that the leaders in Cleveland having advanced thus far with their battle plans must carry them through to "save their faces" with their constituents.

The suggestion will be made in the cabinet meeting probably by Secretary of Labor Davis, who has gone over the situation thoroughly with members of the railroad labor board, that a board of conciliation be organized by the president to deal with the impending strike. The staff of professional conciliators maintained by the department of labor for the settlement of industrial disputes is being held in readiness to take up the present controversy, but, under the law, these men may not inquire into the present difficulties until formally requested by the contending parties to do so.

The seriousness of the existing quarrel—with the date for the strike less than two weeks off—may cause the president to order these conciliators to take charge or it may be deemed advisable to create a separate board consisting of federal judges or other disinterested parties.

Conciliation might also be brought about and difficulties of the railroad executives and workers reconciled, it was pointed out, through the bringing together in Washington or elsewhere of representatives railroad heads and chiefs of the four brotherhoods by the president himself.

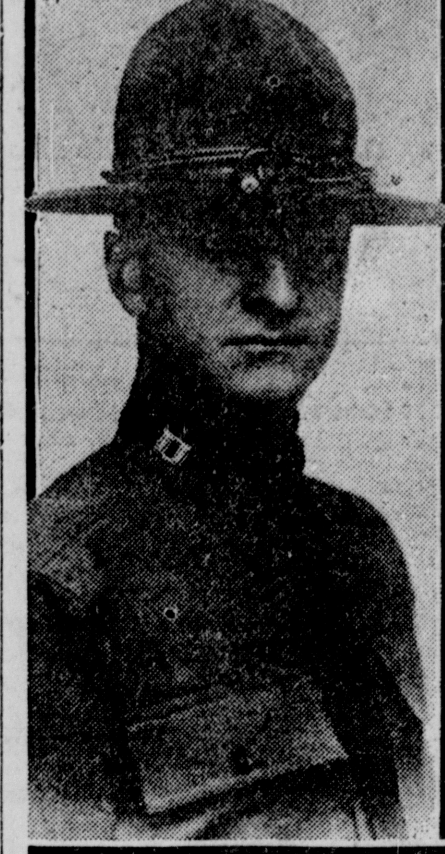

The situation was made more complex today by indications that some railroad executives were not adverse to the walkout. They believe public opinion would condemn the striking workers in the event of a general tie up which might lead to the breaking up of the "big four" brotherhoods and the loss of power by the railroad department of the American Federation of Labor.

FAIL TO MAKE STOP
Washington, C. H., Oct. 18.—It is stated that the D. T. & I. has declined to make further stops of its passenger trains at Ghormleys in southern Fayette, although recently ordered by the Utilities Commission to do so.

Ku Klux Klan Denounced By Commander Darlington

State Head of American Legion Predicts National Convention Will Take Step Against Order, in Address at Post Hall Monday Night.

"When I talk one hundred percent Americanism to a man I want to do it without a hood over my head or a mask over my face. The Ku Klux Klan will be roundly denounced at others of its executives, know that the Legion is not opposed to organized labor, but that the problem of the Legion is to convince the members of the rank and file of labor that this is a fact, and this question will be taken up at the national convocation. From now on until election day, (Continued on Page Ten) the national convention of the American Legion in Kansas City, just the same as the G. A. R. denounced it at their national convention."

CAPTAIN C. L. DARLINGTON

So said Captain C. L. Darlington, newly elected commander of the State Department of the American Legion, speaking before an audience here Monday night following a banquet given in his honor by Joseph P. Foody Post, No. 95, and the Women's Auxiliary of that Post in the Post Hall, Detroit and Second streets. The new State Commander is a charter member of Foody Post, and was its first commander.

Darlington's denunciation of the Ku Klux Klan, came in his review of the business of the recent state convention at Toledo and in foretelling some of the problems that will be dealt with at the national convention. He said that the oath of the Ku Klux Klan resembles in text that of the American Legion, but that its principles and the way it carried them out, was far different. "No organization that preaches racial or religious prejudice can be supported by the American Legion," he said.

Referring to the disarmament question, or as it is now often known the limitation of armaments, Commander Darlington said that the Legion is opposed to war and in favor of disarmament. "But," he said, "we don't want to disarm our nation before the other fellow, and that is the thing we are not going to stand for."

That the Legion is not opposed to organized labor, is one of the things, said Commander Darlington, that it is hard to make the rank and file of organized labor believe. He said that Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, and

OBSERVE NATIONAL UMBRELLA WEEK

National Umbrella Week, is to be observed next week, from October 24 until October 29.

The plan is proposed under the belief that umbrellas cannot be sold without being advertised and displayed, and the rainy season is picked as a timely period to push the sale of the rain sticks.

PREMIER BRIAND UNDER FIRE AS CABINET MEETS

Supporters Believe He Will Receive Vote of Confidence.

Paris, Oct. 18.—Premier Briand faced the heaviest bombardment of criticism in the 13 months he has headed the cabinet when parliament reconvened today. Despite the salvo of interpellations from all quarters, supporters of the premier were confident he would receive a vote of confidence, which will enable him to enter Washington conference backed solidly by the whole country.

Debate upon the government's foreign policy and upon French aims at Washington will be started at once and if the present program is followed it will be continuous for more than a week. It should end by Oct. 29.

More than forty interpellations have been announced to which the premier will reply, defending and explaining the course of the government in each instance. The interpellations deal with every branch of the government's activities including finance, industrial reconstruction, the Washington conference, the general foreign policy, the Wiesbaden agreement with Germany and the Upper Silesian decision of the league of nations.

There are interpellators from every group in the chamber of deputies on the extreme right, Leon Daudet, royalist and editor of L'Action Francaise, will renew his attempts to overthrow Premier Briand, his keenest political enemy. On the right center, General Decastellau, of Nancy, fame, will question the premier on disarmament and the Washington conference asking M. Briand carefully to guard France's interests in view of the German menace. On the center, Deputy Forquet, will challenge the premier's financial policies: both home and foreign.

From the left center interpellations will come from the so-called Clemenceau party which includes such politicians as Andre Tardeu, Edouard Iznace, George Mandel. All will "seek M. Briand's scalp" by claiming that he has not kept to the treaty of Versailles in his negotiations with the allied powers.

PROBE OF KU KLUX KLAN BY CONGRESS GOES UP IN SMOKE

Committee Decides Not to Call Any More Witnesses Now.

Washington, Oct. 18.—The proposed investigation of the Ku Klux Klan by Congress blew up yesterday. After a 10-minute session behind closed doors, the house rules committee, which at morning and afternoon sessions put William J. Simmons, the klan's imperial wizard, through a rigid examination, voted unanimously not to call any more witnesses, certainly not at this time.

Announcement of the committee action was made by Chairman Campbell, and while he and members refused later to comment beyond the bare statement as to witnesses, it was expected that an adverse report would be submitted to the house on a number of resolutions providing for an investigation.

Final action, however, will not be taken until several absent members return to Washington. House members accepted it as settled that they were done with the Ku Klux Klan, unless the department of justice, conducting an inquiry of its own, comes forward with unexpected evidence.

Violence Breaks Out In British Detention Camps

Sinn Feiners Wreck Prison On Spike Island Off Cork—Mount Joy, Biggest Place of Kind in Ireland, Taken Over By Irish for Use as Training Quarters.

London, Oct. 18.—With a jolt in the Irish peace conference today reports came out of Ireland of a sudden flareup of violence among the interned Sinn Feiners in British detention camps.

The Sinn Fein prisoners on Spike Island off Cork, have wrecked the internment camp. Smoke was visible from the mainland over the island today but the full extent of damage and the casualties if any were not known.

Sinn Feiners are reported to have taken over Mount Joy prison, near Dublin, the biggest prison in Ireland and are using it for training quarters. Without waiting for the result of the peace conference the Sinn Feiners are reported to be gradually extending their authority in Ireland.

The British garrison at Dublin has remained passive and, according to orders from headquarters did nothing when the republicans seized Mount Joy prison.

Sinn Fein courts are sitting daily in various parts of South Ireland. They are even trying British prisoners refusing to hand them over to British courts for trial.

The Morning Post says the special squad of Royal Irish constabulary which has been searching vessels in Irish ports for contraband arms has ceased its activities on orders from Dublin Castle.

As a result of the drilling of the Irish republican army the Ulster volunteers will be reorganized for offensive purposes, said a Belfast Central News dispatch. The Ulster volunteers were formed by Sir Edward Carson as a military force to protect Ulster's rights from invasion, "either by south Ireland or England."

The I. N. S. is in a position to state that the Irish conference has reached such an advanced stage of agreement regarding the Sinn Fein issues at stake, that the parity has been split up into numerous committees to tackle the details of settlement. There was no session of the conference today. So far the personnel of the committees has not been given out. The drafting stage—which is similar to committee work in the American congress—was reached earlier than had been expected.

COMPROMISE IN SIGHT; NATION WIDE RAIL STRIKE MAY BE AVERTED

Heads of Big Four Railway Brotherhoods Summoned to Chicago By Labor Board to Meet With Them On Thursday.

"PEACE WITH HONOR" DECLARES STONE

Employees Will Accept Formula if Consistent With Union Ideas It Is Said—Executives May Be Called Into Conference.

Cleveland, Oct. 18.—Heads of the Big Four railway brotherhoods were today summoned to Chicago by the Railway Labor Board to meet with them Thursday at 2 o'clock.

The invitation was made public this morning by Warren S. Stone, grand chief of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, who stated that it would be accepted.

The telegram did not indicate what proposals for a peaceful settlement, if any, the government would lay before the union leaders, but it was considered certain that the results of the conference held in Washington between the public group of the labor board and the I. C. S. would be laid before the leaders as a basis for a compromise of the present tense situation, with the hope that the strike order might be revoked before it becomes effective.

Whether the railway executives have also been called into the conference was not known here, but it was thought probable that they had been asked to attend.

The invitation caused a sudden change in the plans of the "big four" chiefs. A hurried conference of Warren S. Stone, head of the engineers, W. S. Carter, of firemen, W. G. Lee of the trainmen and representatives of the conductors and railway switchmen was held behind closed doors to discuss the altered situation.

"Peace with honor will be welcomed," Stone declared. "We have not sought a strike but have sought to avert one, and if the railway labor board fresh from a conference with the president has a formula that we can accept, we will accept it."

Chicago, Oct. 18.—The sun of a ting the federation unions to a definite strike program would be taken until the purposes and methods of the brotherhoods were clearly understood.

It was stated by B. M. Jewell, president of the railway employees department of the American Federation of Labor, however that if the brotherhoods go out it will be impossible to hold the men of the shopcrafts and other federation unions in line. They may not join with the brotherhoods in the actual conduct of the strike but they will strike, it was declared, even if they keep the machinery for conducting the strike entirely in their own hands.

J. F. Smock, vice president of the Brotherhood of Maintenance of Way Employees, declared today that any action toward a compromise taken by the "big four" brotherhoods would not necessarily affect the federation unions. He emphasized the point already made by other union leaders that the federation unions were "standing on their own feet" in the present crisis.

The Brotherhood of Stationary Firemen and Oilers convened today, the first of the federation unions to hold meetings. The Brotherhood of Railway Clerks, Freight Handlers, Express and Station Employees, is scheduled to meet tomorrow. The Brotherhood of Railway Telegraphers and half a dozen other federation unions will hold meetings during the week.

These meetings will decide the attitude of the individual unions toward a strike. On Sunday a general meeting of the heads of the federation unions will be held at which the action taken by the individual unions will be polled. This meeting is expected, it will finally decide what the attitude of the federation unions is to be.

With the roads included in groups one and two of the "progressive" strike plans of the brotherhoods announced, the list of roads in group three also became known today. They are:

Minneapolis and St. Louis, Burlington system; Chesapeake and Ohio, New York Central lines, Boston and Albany, Baltimore and Ohio, Western Pacific, Denver and Rio Grande, Chicago and Alton, Illinois Central, Yazoo and Mississippi, Soo Line, Great Northern, Lake Erie and Western, Cleveland, Cincinnati, Chicago and St. Louis (Big Four).

The only information concerning the fourth group yet made public is that it contains the entire Pennsylvania system. The fact that the Pennsylvania is among the last of the roads to be affected by the strike has caused much comment among the federation union officials and is the cause of some dissatisfaction on the part of the officials with the strike plans of the brotherhoods. The Pennsylvania has been regarded as an unrelenting enemy of the federation unions and they are outspoken in declaring it should have been one of the first roads hit by the strike.

Reasons for failure to include the Pennsylvania system in any published list of roads upon which a strike call has been issued, were indicated today by President Lee of the trainmen. He stated that the members of his organization had voted 92 per cent in favor of a strike on lines west of Pittsburgh, while the proposal had failed to carry on lines east of that city.

An Invitation to the Ladies especially

Many Heating Engineers are keeping their stores open evenings and invite you to come in and meet ARCOLA

THIS WEEK is ARCOLA Week and the Heating Engineers are keeping open house. Many will keep their stores open evenings for you.

They invite you to come in and meet ARCOLA, the wonderful new hot-water heating outfit which warms a whole house with its single fire, taking the place of several stoves and paying for itself in the fuel it saves.

If you don't know where your Heating Engineer's store is, pick up the classified telephone directory and look under "Heating Contractors" or "Steamfitters" or "Plumbers." Pick out the name and address nearest your home.

And decide now to accept this invitation; it may mean a saving of $25 on this winter's fuel bill; or even more than that!

For ARCOLA—built by the same company whose larger heating plants are installed in mansions, cathedrals and even the White House itself—is guaranteed to do these five things:

- 1—Connected with American Radiators, it fills the whole house with healthful hot-water warmth.
- 2—It takes the place of several stuffy stoves, and pays for itself in the fuel it saves. In that sense it is really a gift.
- 3—It can be connected to the kitchen tank, too, giving an abundance of hot water for washing and bathing.
- 4—It can be installed immediately without the slightest disturbance to the family.
- 5—It adds from three to five times its cost to the selling value of your house—just as IDEAL Boilers and larger AMERICAN Radiator systems add far more than their cost to the value of larger buildings.

ARCOLA is unlike any heating plant you have ever seen. It is an entirely new invention developed after

This red and yellow card at the right is the sign of a Heating or Sanitary Engineer (you used to call him Steamfitter or Plumber) who can show you ARCOLA. Look for it in his window.

It will pay you to consult him twice a year as you do your Doctor or Dentist. To have him examine and report on your heating and plumbing costs little. It may save you a very great deal.

OPEN CONFERENCE OF OHIO LIBRARY BODY ON MONDAY

With the address of welcome by Arthur E. Morgan, president of Antioch College, Yellow Springs the twenty-seventh annual conference of the Ohio Library Association, officially opened Monday evening at eight o'clock.

Following the address of welcome, Carl P. P. Vitz, of Cleveland, president of the Library Association, spoke on the subject "The Librarian Comes Out," and he was followed by the principal speaker, Dr. Hendrik Willem Van Loon, professor of social science at Antioch College, who addressed the Librarians on the subject, "Eyes and Ears and History."

An informal reception at which about 150 delegates from all over the state who are in attendance, were welcomed, was held following Dr. Van Loon's address. The session, Tuesday morning, opened with the reports of the secretary, Margaret Dunbar of Kent, and the treasurer, Azariah S. Root, of Oberlin. "Planning to Make the Public Library Known" was the subject Tuesday morning of Gilbert O. Ward, technical librarian, of the Cleveland public library. At the close of the morning session at ten o'clock Tuesday morning, the delegates went by automobile to the gorge at Clifton.

The scheduled reception and tea at the home of Congressman and Mrs. S. D. Fess, has been stricken from the program unavoidably, and the reception was held Tuesday afternoon at the Presbyterian Church in Yellow Springs. Dr. Van Loon was scheduled to speak.

H. A. HIGGINS NOW C. OF C. PRESIDENT; ELECTED MONDAY

H. A. Higgins was elected president of the Chamber of Commerce by the board of directors at its meeting, Monday night, following action of the board in accepting the resignation of R. A. Kelly as president.

Mr. Kelly, who was elected president recently, resigned, he said, because he felt that he could not give the organization the time it needed. He had never served in the capacity of president since his election.

Mr. Higgins, the president, has been identified with the Chamber of Commerce since its organization. He has been twice elected to the board of directors, and is now serving his second term and third year as a member of that board. He has accepted the office which he will assume at once.

Finley M. Torrence was chosen secretary of the Chamber at the same meeting. He will actually succeed Fredrick J. Slackford as secretary, although he will not devote full time to the organization as secretaries have in the past. Mr. Torrence is a new member of the board of directors just starting his first term on that body.

The elections to fill the vacancies, Monday night, were practically unanimous and represented the most important business to come before the board. H. S. LeSourd, treasurer of the organization, who has held that office since the Chamber of Commerce was inaugurated, read the financial report at the close of the meeting which the board voted to accept.

PRACTICE GOES ON

After their rather weak showing against the West Alexandria football team last Friday, the Central high gridders realize that they are in for a strenuous week's practice.

While not allying for the showing of his charges, Coach Jerry Katherman is inclined to the belief that overconfidence of beating the visitors, was one big factor in the poor showing of the blue and white eleven.

Anticipating such a condition, Coach Jerry attempted to take this confidence out of his charges before the game. The team will have a hard game, Friday, when Hillsboro high is played here and hard drilling will be on the program to prepare the squad for this battle. Hillsboro defeated Chillicothe 7-0, which team won from Washington, C. H. by a large score, which shows that the Highland county combination is not to be despised this fall.

GAME NOT BOOKED

The American Legion football team is without a game for next Sunday, so far.

Strenuous efforts are being made by the management of the local eleven however, to book some good 150-pound aggregation for Sunday, and assurance is given that the Legionaire footballers will be out again Sunday afternoon.

The team that will be met here will be announced later it is said.

REUNION IS HELD

Columbus, Oct. 17.—A campfire on the first night and a banquet the next night are scheduled as features of the 48th annual reunion of the Society of the Army of the Cumberland, to be held here October 1920. Business meeting will be held at the Southern hotel.

SEEK TWO ALLEGED TO HAVE BURNED DETECTIVE'S AUTO

Authorities have as yet failed in their efforts to apprehend the thieves who stole the Chevrolet touring car owned by Lieutenant Charles Mackrodt, of the Pennsylvania railroad police, Saturday night, and later burned it up on the Lower Bellbrook pike.

The car was taken between seven and eight o'clock from the depot parking space. Its disappearance was discovered about eight o'clock, and at 9:30 o'clock, the car was found burned up about a mile and one-half out on the Lower Bellbrook pike.

John Weiss, of the Lower Bellbrook pike, was walking home and was near the spot where the thieves stopped. He is said to have declared that two men jumped from the machine, and that while one of them ran through a field, the other lighted a match and threw it in the tonneau of the car setting it on fire, and then ran. An empty bottle, which had contained coal oil, was found near the burned machine, Monday, leading to the belief that the machine was purposely burned.

Police are inclined to connect the thieves with two men who ran up the Pennsylvania railroad tracks from that direction about that time and were seen by a crossing watchman, and are searching for those two men in an attempt to throw some light on the theft.

A DISTINGUISHED XENIAN.

One of the most distinguished citizens that Xenia has produced is Rev. Charles W. Drees, D. D. He is a Xenia born and bred man. In his early ministry he was sent as a missionary to Mexico, where he did a wonderful work for twenty-five years, and now for many years has been engaged in like work, at Buenos Aires, South America.

The editor of the Western Christian Advocate, Cincinnati, attended the recent meeting in London, England, of the Ecumenical Conference of World Wide Methodism, and among his notices of the proceedings alludes as follows to Mr. Drees:

"In all these discussions on missionary problems and world peace, one of the most commendable addresses was delivered by the Rev. Charles W. Drees, of our church in Buenos Aires. The speaker has given many years to missionary work and is regarded as one of the greatest linguists in the Methodist Episcopal Church. He is a product of Ohio, and has made a record that will fill a very large place in the history of missions of our church."

MEXICO'S NEAREST NEIGHBORS SPEAK WELL OF THEM.

El Paso Texas, boasts it never has had a boom, never has known labor trouble and never has seen depression. Nearly one-half of its population of 85,000 is Mexican.

El Paso people are optimistic, too, in regard to Mexico. They appreciate the Mexican question is national and it rests with President Harding and Secretary Hughes to decide. They have no disposition to consider the subject from a selfish or local viewpoint, yet they say they have exceptional opportunities for judging some phases of the case. Two excursions of El Paso business men have been down to Mexico and a delegation from the Mexican Chambers of Commerce has been to El Paso, and the best of feeling and a lot of business are the result.

El Paso people pay a high tribute to President Obregon. From their personal observation and information from their representatives in Mexico, they declare Mexico has a more stable and orderly Government today than at any time since Diaz's regime. Not only that, but they say they know Obregon. They knew him before he was President. They have entertained him socially and regard him as a neighbor and a friend. They say he has much to contend with, owing to the desperate state in which Mexico had sunk before he assumed office, and in addition he has powerful men and strong interests of the old political groups against him in the carrying out of his work of rehabilitation. But he slowly and surely is strengthening his position, and in due time will either win the others over to his views or be so well entrenched that he can exert his will to the full.

IN JAPAN'S HANDS.

If the Japanese Empire is prepared to abandon many of its present interests and privileges for the sake of disarmament some of the quagmires and cliffs that the world has feared were in the way will prove no more than mirages and shadows.

On Japan, more than upon any other of the six Powers, depends the success and the results of the conference at Washington. It must be so, for Japan is now and has been for a generation the disturbing factor in the Far Eastern equation.

The expanding Japanese Empire has thrown the Far East, as men had known it for many generations, out of balance. Like the sticks of a giant fan, the columns of Japanese penetration have thrust out from the crowded islands of the Mikado. First there were Korea and Formosa. Then there were Manchuria and Saghalien. Came then the Twenty-one Demands and Shantung. Followed the mandated islands. There is now Siberia, with its hybrid governments and the strange, mixed vague business that is going on in what used to be the Czar's Pacific provinces. These things have plowed the soil of the Far East and made fertile its reaches for the seeds of war.

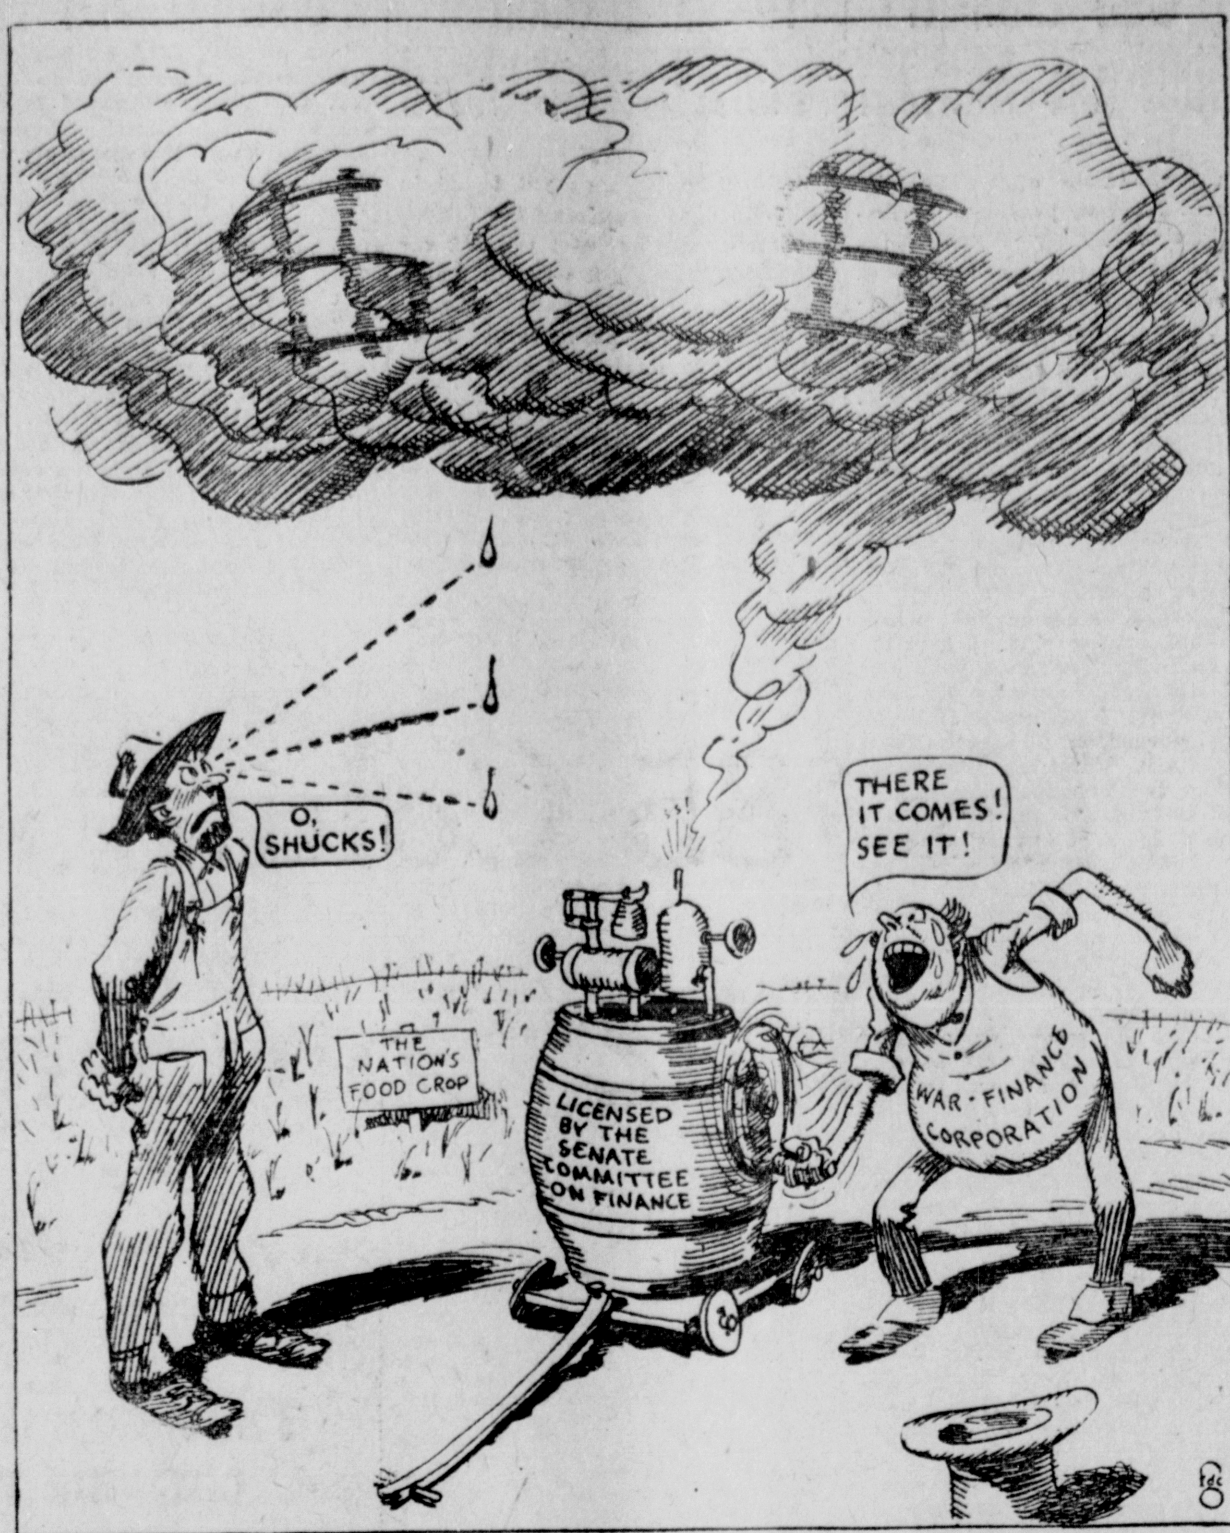

If Japan is prepared to make sacrifices in certain of these matters, well and good. If the voice of the imperialist is muffled and muted and Japan is ready to abandon some of its privileges and interests, whether these are "facts accomplished" or not, the conference should move forward steadily from its first hours. The seeds of war, admittedly existing in the Pacific and the Far East, will never germinate if Japan is swinging over into full accord with the purposes of the parleys and is prepared to make sacrifices.

For it is no secret that unless Japan can be persuaded that the days of imperialism and militarism are coming to an ending, the conference can be no more than a half-success at best. Unless the island men are willing to respect territorial integrities, to accept the "open-door" principle and cease dreaming the dreams of a mighty Yellow Empire, a disarmed world is afar off.

America wants a fair and a just settlement of these menacing things. She wants and has asked for the opportunity to begin disarming. France, Italy and the British Empire, regarding their present positions in the Orient and its waters, are content to bow in obedience to the joss "of things as they are." A divided, helpless and, for the time, impotent China is in the hands of the conference.

Japan can make or break the conference. She is the key-Power in the parleys. On the island empire will rest the blame or the credit for failure or success. Unquestionably Japan will be called upon to make sacrifices. It is the considered, cold opinion of the world that she should.—Public Ledger.

1901--Twenty Years Ago--1921

The Grand Jury which has been in session for some days past, finished its work, today, and filed its report with the county clerk, this afternoon.

The dispatches from Columbus, yesterday, contain the information that the incorporation papers for the Little Miami Traction Company have been amended so that the road here will be hereafter known as the Springfield & Xenia Traction Company.

Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Adair are receiving a visit of a couple of weeks from Mr. and Mrs. Long, of Columbus. Since the changes were made in the Little Miami yards in this city and additional track put down, the crews have found it much more convenient in handling the great amount of traffic.

The new school rooms which have been fitted up in the basement of the Central High School are now about completed.

The Miami Telephone Company now has its exchange in Jamestown in operation. The switchboard has a capacity of 300 boxes with a present equipment of 100.

ANSWERED LETTERS

Ashamed—Your weight is correct and from your description of yourself (in spite of its modesty) I judge you are a very pretty girl, who only needs a daily bath, more exercise and a more becoming way to arrange the hair in order to realize your possibilities. Hazel eyes, arched brows and an abundance of chestnut hair, should not be obscured because of a neglected skin a severe arrangement of the hair.

The condition of your skin comes from your sedentary habits, and the slippish way you have of bathing. Take a full tubbing each day of very warm water, followed with cooler, then cold water and have a separate and a course towel to create a glow over the whole body. This will relieve the pores of the face and clear the complexion. Learn to love all the outdoor games, especially tennis, instead of sitting on a porch all day doing fancy work.

Pluff the hair by using kid curlers several times each week, until this training will keep it softened without curlers. Expedient with the ways of arranging it so it will fall in waves around the head and will not show that harsh line which you are getting now by brushing the hair back and tying it tightly at the back of the head. If you study the illustration in the fashion magazines, you will find plenty of suggestions from them for arranging the hair artistically.

Itchy—Cold sores come from fever and will be relieved by an application of nitre or camphor.

Laurie—Massage the calves of the legs with cocoa butter, which will fatten them.

Margie L.—When the skin darkens around the mouth, it is usually found that the liver is very torpid and no cream will bleach the skin under such conditions. The circles around the eyes confirm this though they may come from other causes, such as lack of sleep and internal disorders that are not directly connected with the liver. A cream made from fine vegetable oils will not cause hair to grow on the face, but if your skin is perfect without cream, do not use it.

A Reader—That burning sensation in the feet will be relieved by a foot bath, in which there has been an abundance of epsom salts dissolved. This is an inexpensive commodity if bought by the pound. If you have this sensation frequently, you should consult the doctor, as it sometimes comes from uric acid in the system. This will yield quickly to the proper treatment but if allowed to go on, leads to rheumatism and other troubles.

Discouraged—Send a stamped addressed envelope for a bleaching formula. I regret there is not space to publish one at this time.

FINDS NEW WAY TO GAIN WEIGHT

Contractor Explains How He Made a Quick 28 Pound Increase.

"When I started taking Peppen I was 42 pounds under weight. In about a month I gained 28 pounds and I expect to be able, with the help of Peppen, to add on four more pounds and reach my normal weight within a short time."

This remarkable statement was made a few days ago by Ad. Miller, of 134 Wyoming Street, Dayton, O., prominent business man of that city. Being under weight is serious. Following an investigation, life insurance companies established a firm rule to the effect that men and women must weigh at least the minimum for their height before they can obtain life insurance. It had been found that men and women who are under weight are not good life insurance risks.

The experience of Mr. Miller with Peppen is typical of thousands of cases. It is an established fact that Peppen has increased the weight and improved the health of hundreds of thousands. Continuing, Mr. Miller says:

"About six months ago I noticed that I was losing weight and strength. I finally got so that I couldn't sleep more than an hour or two all night. I frequently got up mornings with a severe headache that lasted all day. I finally became so weak that I could scarcely walk half a block. I kept losing weight until I was 32 pounds under what I should weigh, normally."

"I started taking Peppen. It was just what I needed. I stopped losing weight and in a short time I began to gain. I have now gained 28 pounds in less than a month. I sleep eight solid hours every night and get up mornings feeling refreshed. The headaches do not come any more. I am enjoying normal strength and feel as though I could walk ten miles without tiring."

Peppen is a new system tonic which is now being specially introduced at Sayre & Hemphill's.

NEWLY RICH.

Charles Cheeseman walked for many years along a path obscure; he humbly whacked a span of steers, for he was beastly poor. Dame Fortune watched him as he hewed and plowed and dug his ditch, and in a vain and freakish mood she made him beastly rich. Our hero straightway started in to paint the country red, to sample every brand of sin, and knock the statutes dead. If any course seemed safe and sane, he dodged it right away, and pikers followed in his train, and cheered him night and day. The meanest trick Dame Fortune knows she sprung upon this guy; the starkest man among his foes no such a trick would try. It is as though you took a swine from some cheap hoglot near, and placed on it some antlers fine, and christened it a deer. And if the pig, inspired by hope of endless fun and fame, believes itself an antelope, Dame Fortune is to blame. And Charlie Cheeseman lapped up ale, and waded deep in slime, until one day he went to jail, charged with a horrid crime. Now all the moralists advance and take him for a text, explaining that his name is Pance in this world and the next. They swat this votary of fun, they roar, from coast to coast; but old Dame Fortune is the one who ought to get the roast.

DINNER STORIES

"Do you mean to tell me," demanded the clergyman, "that you really believe that story about the prophet Elijah being fed by the ravens?"

"Why not?" replied the clergyman. "If a prophet's salary was anything like that paid to a present day minister of the Gospel, somebody must have fed him."

A Boston millionaire was talking about masterful wives.

"Masterful wives," he said, "were in the minority heretofore, but with the coming of universal suffrage the majority of wives are getting pretty masterful."

"Believe me," he concluded, "it won't be only in his office that the husband of the future, when he starts to dictate, will be taken down."

Murphy had been detailed to carry the sad news of the boiler explosion to the weeping widow.

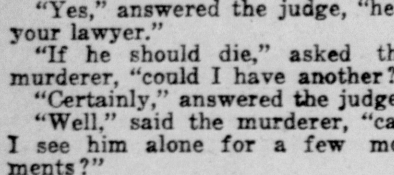

"Sure, now, ye shouldn't take on so," he said, consolingly. "Pat was sittin' on the boiler when it blew up. They ain't found him yet, but he may come down fine and dandy any day."

Harry had been studying his grandfather's face, which was very much wrinkled.

"Well, Harry," said the old gentleman jocosely, "do you like my face?"

"Well, grandpa," said the boy, "it's an awfully nice face, but I was wondering if you couldn't have it ironed?"

"Is this the lawyer who is going to defend me?" asked the murderer as he looked at the young lawyer.

"Yes," answered the judge, "he's your lawyer."

"If he should die," asked the murderer, "could I have another?"

"Certainly," answered the judge. "Well," said the murderer, "can I see him alone for a few moments?"

"I hear the Joneses have got a five-thousand-dollar car."

"When did they ever get it?"

"The car?"

"No, the five thousand."

"Oh, they haven't got it yet!"

"Would you marry a woman lawyer?"

"No, sir. The ordinary woman can cross-examine quite well enough."

A business man advertised for an office boy. The next morning there were some fifty boys in line. He was about to begin examining the applicants when his stenographer handed him a card on which was scribbled:

"Don't do anything until you see me. I'm the last kid in the line, but I'm telling you I'm there with the goods."

"How do you figure what prices to charge?"

"We fellows have it down to a system," replied the grocer. "Last year when sugar was 20, cranberries were 8 now when sugar is 8, cranberries are 20."

Appellate Court Hears Cases

Six cases were considered by the Court of Appeals when it convened in Common Pleas Court here, Monday.

The cases which came to the attention of the Appellate Court were those of Lantz versus Thompson; Burt versus Purnell; Anderson versus Anderson; Chaw versus Wilson; The Refiners' Oil Company versus J. J. Stout and Helen Milburn versus Calvin Dimmitt.

The judges had completed hearings on the different cases about three o'clock, and were then taken into the country to view land involved in one of the cases that came before their attention. Their written decisions on the cases will not be expected for some time.

Judges who composed the Appellate Court are H. L. Farned, Dayton; J. I. Allread, Columbus and A. H. Kunkle, Springfield.

Asks For $5,000 Judgment.

The Exchange Bank of Cedarville claims a judgment of $5,000 with eight per cent interest from August 2, 1921 alleged due on a promissory note in its suit filed with Clerk of Courts Elam and naming as defendants C. G. Paul and Sarah E. Paul. Harry D. Smith is attorney for the plaintiff.

Wants Injunction and Relief

Gladys Dickerson seeks injunction and equitable relief in her suit against R. S. Bartley, filed in Common Pleas Court. The petition states the plaintiff owns 60 acres of land, which on February 26, 1921 she rented to Ralph S. Bartley, the defendant, under the agreement that each was to receive one-half of the proceeds of the stock, seeds and grains, and that the plaintiff was to have equal rights in determining any proposition of sale of any property. She claims further that there are now 28 hogs, a crop of corn and some oats, alfalfa, hay, potatoes and other articles in which both plaintiff and defendant are jointly interested. The petition charges that the defendant disposed of considerable property without her knowledge, including a number of hogs, and has never accounted for the sale, and that he has threatened to dispose of other property and attempts to operate the farm without consulting her. She asks for a temporary restraining order, injunction that a receiver be appointed and demands an accounting. The court allowed a temporary restraining order. J. A. Wortman and the law firm of Miller & Finney, compose counsel for the plaintiff.

Attorneys Sues For Fees

Attorneys Morris D. Rice, of Osborn, and C. L. Darlington, of this city, have entered friendly suits in Common Pleas Court against the village of Osborn, for attorney fees alleged due them. It is alleged the village wants to pay the fees out of the sinking fund, which requires an order of authority from the court.

Asks For Foreclosure

Clarissa E. Murphy asks for foreclosure in her suit against Ida J. Huffman, filed with Clerk of Courts Elam. The petition states the defendant is the sole heir at law of Martha Jane Jolley and Simeon Jolley and that Martha Jane Jolley died October 26, 1904 seized of 50 acres of land in Caesarscreek township. The plaintiff further claims that Martha Jane Jolley gave the plaintiff her promissory note for $750 before her death, and unable to pay it, within the time requirement of a year, the Martha Jane and Simeon Jolley had given her a mortgage deed on the property. The plaintiff asks for foreclosure and that the property be sold to pay the debt. The law firm of Miller & Finney represent the plaintiff.

Wants To Collect on Note

M. Cramer seeks to collect $29.67 alleged due as balance on a promissory note in his suit against Murray Marshall and Fleeta Marshall filed in Common Pleas Court. The note was executed for $76.65 June 14, 1919, according to the petition to bear three percent interest a month, and secured by a chattel mortgage given the same day on considerable household goods and property. The petition asks that the property be ordered sold and the proceeds be applied to the payment of the note. H. C. Armstrong is attorney for the plaintiff.

Husband Seeks Separation

ian Wolf with extreme cruelty in his suit for divorce filed with Clerk of Courts Elam. The couple was married June 3, 1915, and has two children, Martha, aged 5, and Alfred, aged one. The plaintiff claims that June 9, 1921, they agreed to separate, by agreement the plaintiff taking Martha and the defendant Alfred. The plaintiff asserts he provided the defendant with money, and on October 15, 1921, took Martha to visit the defendant, at which time the defendant kept the child and refused to return her. He prays for divorce and custody of the children.

Sues Second Time.

Grace Lakey plaintiff in an action for divorce from Thomas Lakey, filed with Clerk of Courts Elam. The petition is the second of like nature filed, the first petition being withdrawn.

White Will Is Probated.

The will of Amanda White has been admitted to probate by Judge J. Carl Marshall. The will gives to James P. White, the testator's brother, the income on one-half of her estate during his lifetime.

The will excepts the amount left the testator by her sister, Mary E. White, and which is to go to Stella Osborn and her three sons, William, Paul and Richard, Marie McEwain and Stella Osborn are each given $100 by the terms of the document.

The rest of the property is to be equally divided between Thomas Hopkins, Willis Vance, Miles Vance, Robert Hopkins, Willis Vance, Miles Vance, Robert McEwain and Fred McEwain. Katherine Hopkins is to receive $500 less than the above named legatees. In case the amount received by the three sons of Stella Osborn is less than what they should receive, Thomas Hopkins, Robert Hopkins, Willis Vance, Miles Vance, Robert McEwain and Fred McEwain each shall give enough to make up the amount. Should Katherine Hopkins die without heirs, according to the terms of the will, her share is to be divided among the three sons of Stella Osborn. Should Robert Hopkins die without heirs, his share shall go to his wife during her lifetime if she does not remarry, and if she should remarry or die, the property is to be equally divided between Thomas Hopkins, Katherine Hopkins, Willis Vance, Miles Vance, Robert McEwain and Fred McEwain and three sons of Stella Osborn. A codicil to the will asks that the testator's grave be marked with a suitable headstone.

Allowed $1,500 Claim.

Carl C. Sloan, one of the executors of the estate of Elizabeth S. Sloan, has been allowed a claim of $1,500 against the estate for services rendered before the testator's death by Judge Marshall in Probate Court.

BUCKEYE STATE HAS SUFFICIENT FOOD

Columbus, Oct. 18.—That there is sufficient food in Ohio to feed all the citizens of the Buckeye State through out a railroad strike is the declaration made by L. J. Taber, state director of agriculture.

"Ohio's system of roads makes it possible for the state to feed itself. The food is within the state," said Director Taber.

There is a big reserve storage of grain in this state, a surplus of dairy products and cold storage houses are well stocked, he stated. Motor trucks will be used in transporting food and no one need go hungry if the railroad strike takes place, according to Director Taber. Diets may have to be changed to some extent however. Announcement was made that little preparation is being made here in anticipation of a railroad strike.

Declaring that the station yardmasters of America, headquarters in Columbus, "is not a striking organization" William J. Brown, secretary-treasurer of the organization, predicted that the members of that organization will not strike. He said the yardmasters constitution prevents such action.

TREE YIELDS 44 BUSHELS

Wooster, Oct. 17.—The largest yield of apples from one tree at the Ohio experiment station here this year was 44 bushels taken from a Grimes Golden tree.

ACREAGE IS HIGH

Defiance, Oct. 17.—Best harvesting is progressing throughout Defiance county with most of the growers reporting a high average yield. The acreage, however, is not equal to last year. This is due, principally, to controversies between growers and refiners relative to the contract price.

REAL NECESSITY EXISTS HERE FOR PUBLIC NURSING

"One is impressed with the real necessity and importance of more Public Health Nursing Service, in Greene County schools, after a visit to the parents of the children of one district school in the county," stated Miss Helen Evers, County Public Health Nurse, in connection with her report of her work in the schools of the county.

Several months ago, the children of one school, were inspected by the Red Cross Public Health Nurse, and notices were sent to the parents recommending examination by an oculist for eye defects found, and an examination by the family physician for other apparent defects.

One day of follow-up-work and a visit to the school and the parents individually, revealed four pairs of new glasses, several tonsil and adenoid operations performed, and many teeth treated and filled, since the past visit.

One parent, whose child had defective vision, had not taken her child to an oculist because the child,

Rheumatism Can Be Cured!

But You Must Clear Your Blood of Waste Products.

Lack of exercise and improper diet causes waste products to accumulate in the blood. You will at once realize that unless the blood is pure, some part of the body will become diseased.

Rheumatism, with its pain and agony, is one of the most serious diseases caused by waste products in the blood. You know, of course, the blood is not confined alone to the arteries and veins. It passes out of these channels to all parts of the body. This is how sediments or waste products are deposited in the muscles and joints. Genuine relief can be had only by correcting the basic trouble—waste products.

Thousands and thousands of men and women during the past 50 years have cleared their blood of waste products with S. S. S. It is the ideal remedy for rheumatism, because it removes the poisonous waste matter which is causing the trouble. There are no bad after effects and the result is wonderful. Begin taking S. S. This example is brought out by Miss Evers to prove the existence of many cases where the parents are financially able to help children, but the idea of the child being defective has not occurred to them.

The cases that call the attention of the nurse are those where the parents realize defects in their children, and are not financially able to give medical and surgical service to the child.

"It is interesting and gratifying," said Miss Evers, "to see the interest some teachers take in the Public Health work. One teacher was able to tell immediately how many defects had been corrected and how many had not upon my visit to the school."

There's no peace and little rest for the one who suffers from a bad back, and distressing urinary disorders. Xenia people recommend Doan's Kidney Pills. Be guided by their experience.

Mrs. David Pohl, 751 W. Second St., Xenia, gave the following statement Aug. 2, 1917: "I suffered with lame back, but the most annoying symptoms was the irregular action of my kidneys. I felt languid when I arose in the morning and it seemed I never could get any rest. I used Doan's Kidney Pills, which I got at Dones' Drug Store, and they helped me immediately and the second box cured me entirely."

On Aug. 15, 1921, Mrs. Pohl said: "I am glad to again say that Doan's Kidney Pills are the one reliable kidney remedy that cured me of kidney trouble some years ago. I have had no further occasion to use Doan's but I am glad to confirm the statement I gave in 1917 in behalf of this remedy."

Healthy Mother Merry Children Happy Home

TO maintain a happy home the housewife must keep in good health. Her duties are many and various, and it seems as if every other member of the family depended very much on her.

"Where is my hat?" cries the boy.
"What did you do with my coat?" asks the daughter.
"I can't find any handkerchiefs," yells the husband.
The housewife is usually the advisor and general manager of the family.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound helps women to maintain a happy home by keeping them in good health.

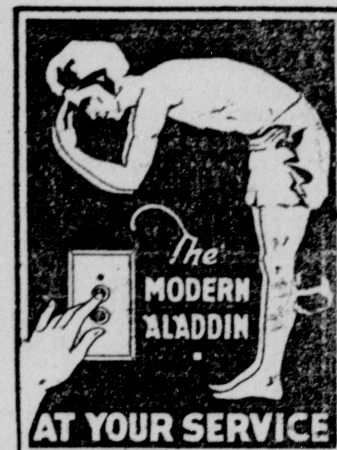

Bloomington, Ill.—"I have taken six bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it has done me a wonderful sight of good. I was never very strong and female trouble kept me weak so that I had no interest for my housework. I had such a backache I could not cook a meal or clean up a room without raging with pain. I would rub my back with alcohol and it would ease for a few hours, but after I had taken three bottles of Vegetable Compound my aches began to gradually leave me. Now I am as strong and healthy as any woman and I give my thanks to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for my health."—Mrs. J. A. McQuitty, 610 W. Walnut St., Bloomington, Ill.

Dante, So. Dakota.—"I would have pains and cramps every month until I could hardly stand it and could not do my work at all at that time and often had to go to bed. I went to a physician, but he did not do me much good and said I would have to have an operation. I read about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in the newspaper and thought I would give it a trial. Now I feel lots better and don't have to give up and go to bed, and can do all my work. You may use these facts as a testimonial, and I will answer with pleasure all letters I receive, and you may be sure I will praise your wonderful medicine."—Mrs. ARTHUR J. KADE, Box 71, Dante, South Dakota.

ELECTRIC service today is such a commonplace fact in your every-day life that you seldom think of the millions of dollars or of the brain and brawn of the hundreds of men that make this service, now so indispensable to you, a possibility.

When you press a button to light your home, store or factory—to start the washer or sweeper in the home—the various devices in the store—the many machines in the factory—it is a matter of fact that the necessary electrical energy is there, instantly, to perform the task. This must continue to be for it is not possible for you to return to the old days of darkness and drudgery.

You must appreciate, however, that for us to keep pace with the increasing demands for our service, much new capital is continually being required. To raise this money we must issue preferred securities.

We are proud to say that the majority of our shareholders live in the communities we serve, and that from time to time they increase their holdings.

BY C. L. DARLINGTON

we have only one thought," said Mr. Darlington, "and that is to put over the adjusted compensation bill." As an argument in favor of the passage of the compensation act, he said that while soldiers were drawing but a dollar a day in the service, a great part of which was taxed for different purposes, that civilian employees in Washington, and in the ship yards, were drawing tremendous salaries, which at the close of the war, placed the fighting man at a distinct financial disadvantage. He referred also to the fact that England, France and Canada have provided generous compensation and that more than 15 states in the U. S. have passed similar bills. "It is unthinkable to me that the people of Ohio are less patriotic than the people of other states. To those who say that it will be expensive, tell them that its maximum cost will be 28 cents on the $1,000 worth of property in taxes, if the tax duplicate is not raised in the next 20 years and if all of the soldiers claim their compensation. It is almost certain that the tax duplicate will be raised and also that many will not claim their compensation, which should bring the cost down to about 14 cents on the thousand.

"My program, after the adjusted compensation act is passed, is to see that every post in Ohio has a woman's auxiliary. The auxiliary is the biggest support a post can have," said the commander. "No other organization will be taken into the hearts of the Legion like the auxiliary."

"The next thing on my program, is adequate club rooms. It is hard to convince many posts that they should have club rooms. Show me a post with good club rooms and a women's auxiliary and I will show you a live post. Show me a post without club rooms and without an auxiliary and I will show you a dead post."

"The third thing on my program, is to establish throughout Ohio, Voitures of the '40 and 8' society. Foody Post is already establishing a Voiture and I want to see the movement spread throughout the State. If the adjusted compensation act passes, and if, within the course of the next year, the majority of posts have club rooms, women's auxiliaries and voitures of the '40 and 8' society, I will feel that I have done my bit toward the success of the Legion."

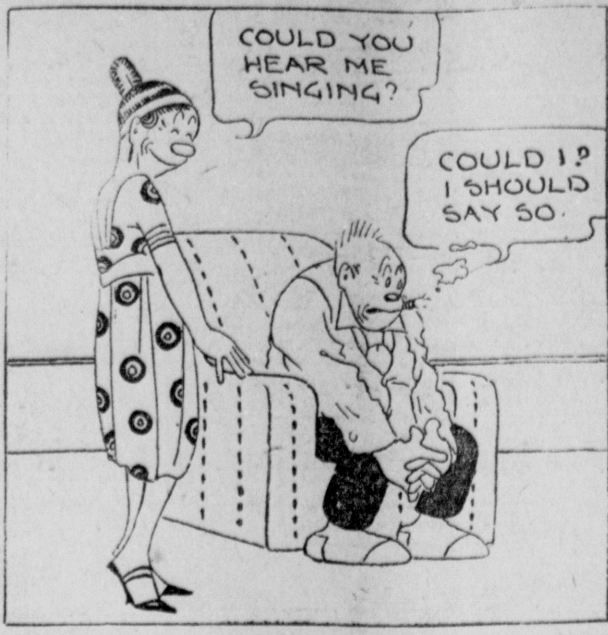

Commander Darlington's address came at the close of a speaking program that followed the banquet at which almost 200 hundred people were guests and including 13 members of Lewis Post, G. A. R. who were specially invited guests of Foody Post.

Dr. B. R. McClellan acted as toastmaster following the banquet, which was prepared and served by members of the Women's Auxiliary. He introduced first, Dr. C. H. Denzer, Commander of Foody Post, after every guest had risen and with bowed head, stood quiet for two minutes in memory of dead comrades.

"If I can impress upon you men and women together here this evening, the greatness of the American Legion—the purposes for which the Legion stands, I will feel that I have done enough to justify my term as Post Commander," said Dr. Denzer.

The Post Commander followed with a word of encouragement for the membership drive and its motto of "every member get a member." He reviewed the activities of the local post and the auxiliary, in making

Efficient Housekeeping

L. L. P.: "Can you tell me how to stiffen some small crocheted favor baskets I have made to hold candies at a luncheon?"

Answer: Boil together 1 cup of sugar and 1-4 cup of water as you do when making cake icing. When the thread stage is reached dip the crocheted baskets into it. They must be shaped before the sirup dries on them.

Steady Reader: "I saw your recently published recipe for Russian Dressing without eggs? A friend of mine is planning to open a tea room and would like an economical recipe of this sort."

Answer: Eggless Russian Dressing: Mix together 1-2 teaspoon salt, 1-4 teaspoon pepper and 1-2 teaspoon dry mustard. Add 3 tablespoons of undiluted evaporated milk (this is thicker than the ordinary milk) and beat in 1-2 cup of salad oil with an egg beater or the wheel type, adding only a little at a time, the dressing will become creamy but not very thick. Now add 2 tablespoons of vinegar, beat thoroughly, and stir in 5 tablespoons chili sauce and 1-2 teaspoon scraped raw onion.

Troubled Reader: "How can I save the last vegetables in my garden for soup this winter? Please give canning directions."

Answer: You can mix any vegetables, put them in hot, sterilized quart size glass jars with 1 teaspoon of salt, cover with boiling water or with boiling soup stock (boiled rice, too, may be added if desired) then sterilize the jars in boiling water to cover, for the period needed by the vegetable which requires the longest time. Any cold pack canning chart will tell you the various sterilizing periods for all vegetables. If you haven't such a chart, send stamped, self-addressed envelope for mine. Here is a good vegetable soup to can: Vegetable Soup: Canning Mixture: Combine 1 cup lima beans (or any kind of beans), 1 cup diced celery, 1 cup corn, 1 sliced onion, 1 green pepper cut small, 1 teaspoon salt, and chopped parsley if you have it. Turn this into hot glass jars which have been boiled 10 minutes in clear water, add boiling water or soup stock to brim, adjust rubbers and covers, partially seal, and sterilize for 180 minutes under boiling water (the time needed for sterilizing corn—vegetable needing the longest period). Completely seal and store.

Tomorrow—More Good Pickles.

Members of the Women's auxiliary served a chicken banquet following the reception in the post parlors for Commander Darlington and the affair represented the first official homecoming of the post since its former Commander in his new position.

THE NEW GENERATION

IT IS A GOOD DEAL TO BE JUST A MOTHER

CHAPTER 66

Often Margaret said to Craig Forrester:

"I am just finding myself. I am like someone who for 20 years has been shut off from the sunlight only as it shone on another now it is shining on me, as well as on Joan. She is grown up, I am just beginning to grow."

"What an idea, you dear unselfish woman! I never knew such devotion as you have given that girl. Even now you consider her in your thoughts before you make a single move. I expect if I should ask you to marry me you would put me off until you could think whether it would be a good thing for Joan."

"Please don't try me," Margaret laughed nervously. "Do you know that you are absolutely opaque? You are wonderful just the same. Don't be afraid I shan't ask you until I am certain that Joan as a deciding force is eliminated from your mind. She'll never give her consent to a young thing like you marrying."

"I'm like a stranger to Joan now. She doesn't quite like it, oh me. She says I am an entirely different person. I think she feels I am terribly foolish, yet at the same time she is a bit afraid of me. You see I have been just her mother. Now I am a human being. It is hard for the poor child to grasp the idea."

"You'll have to be careful that you keep up the idea that you don't go back to the old doting mother who has no ambitions, no desires save as they center around that bobbed head of hers." Then: "She's a dear kid. I wish she didn't hate me so. It would make things so much easier. I shan't give her much more time to right about face and acknowledge a liking for me. I sent her some flowers today."

"You did!"

"Yes, what do you suppose she will do with them, throw them out?" Just then the telephone rang. "Is that you, mother?"

"Yes." "That man—the one who is in love with you—sent me some flowers today. I suppose he thought he could get around me with his gifts just as he does around you. I threw them out of the window. The laundress saw them and took them in her rooms. I hope she likes them."

Margaret gasped as the receiver clicked showing Joan had hung up. "What is it? May I ask?"

"I thought so. What was it my flowers?"

"Yes. She threw them out. The laundress has them."

"I'll send her some more in a day or two. I expected she would do just that. The little spitefire."

"It's only because she loves me," Margaret replied. "It's only because she's selfish, and young, and self-willed."

"Don't! she's unhappy over everything."

"It's time she was! You have immolated yourself on the altar of your love for her for years. It is time she had a jolt of some kind. This young generation is going too fast. They think they can make the world go round without any help from their elders. It is your fault Joan is selfish, not hers. You beautiful young thing!"

"Say it over again, the 'young thing,' I mean." "You young, young thing!" "Thank you! I like it. I think I shall keep you saying it every time I see you, so be warned. And I like being free, and having this lovely apartment and my new clothes, and my friends, and everything, doing things just because I want to do them. I am having the time of my life—oh, I should have said of my young life. Yet—I hate to think I am making Joan unhappy."

You see I love my daughter very dearly. She was grown up, away from me, I was lonely, and this is the result. If she had stayed little," she added naively, "I never would have done this, never."

"No I don't think you would. You would have gone on until you died just being Joan's mother, without any expression of your own sweet self, satisfied just to mother someone."

"After all that is a good deal isn't it?" Margaret's voice was a bit fistful her thoughts on Joan's disappointment face as she last saw it.
